This is me

Hi. My name is Joseph and I live in Manchester with my family. I'm nine years old. I have two brothers – Martin and Jeremy. Martin is twelve and Jeremy is fifteen. I share a room with Martin and Jeremy has his own room. My dad works in a big office and my mum works in a bicycle shop. We live in a big house on a nice street in a small town. It's not in the country, but that's OK. We've got two pets – Clarence the dog and Mandy the cat. My Uncle John and my Aunt Eleanor live on the same street as us. I don't have any other aunts or uncles because my mum is an only child. But Uncle John and Aunt Eleanor have two children. They're my cousins – Vincent and Zoe. Vincent is ten and Zoe is fourteen. We go to the same school and we like playing computer games together. My grandparents live on another street in the same town. They're quite old and they don't work now. Sometimes we all eat together on Sundays and afterwards we watch a movie. We're never lonely with all our relatives!

Life on a farm

Do you hate life in the city? Do you think life on a farm is great, easy and quiet? Well, think again. Life on a farm is great, but it's also very difficult!

Magda and Pierre live on a farm in France with their parents. Every day all the family wake up very early in the morning and they feed the animals and collect the milk and eggs. Then Magda and Pierre brush the horses. Their dad takes the sheep to the field. After that they go to school. When they come back, they help their parents plant vegetables and pick fruit.

After lunch, they do their homework for the next day and then Pierre moves the sheep back to the farm and Magda feeds the ducks. A lot of people visit their farm because they love the animals there and they want to buy fresh fruit and vegetables. Everyone loves their old goat, Bud. Bud doesn't play or run very much now, but he loves people and people love him.

Marathi School: Pupil Website

Welcome to our new school website for pupils only! It's a website for all the pupils of the school. Only pupils work on it, no teachers at all! I'm Ted Black and I'm the editor of the site, but a lot of pupils write articles and reviews, too. There are four main reporters for our site: Nicky Grass, Petra Swindon, Novak Bregovic and Sasha Alexander.

Our website is about what happens at school, like seminars, concerts, school matches and games, and many other things. If you want to know what's happening at the school, this is the place to look for news.

There are many sections on the website. If you want to know about the everyday news, click on the 'News' section. If you're interested in how the school teams are doing, click on 'School Sports'. There are also reviews of school plays and concerts in the 'Arts and Reviews' section. You can find other things that are interesting, too. For example, there are links to other schools' websites and a special section where you can write your own articles, poems and short stories.

Finally, if you have an opinion you want to share with the rest of the school, or a question about something, please send us an email or a letter.

We hope you find the new website interesting and useful!

Travel and holidaysA Doris

I love travelling and I love travelling to faraway places. I go on holiday every summer with my family and last year we went all the way to Zimbabwe to see all the animals. We drove into the countryside in a big bus and took photographs of the things we saw through the windows. The lions and elephants were fantastic!

B Julie

Studying other countries is my favourite lesson at school. I like studying continents and countries, and I like hills and lakes and not big houses or churches. I don't really like sightseeing when I go on holiday because I don't like history very much. Last year we went to South America and we saw some beautiful countries, like Venezuela and Brazil.

C Roger

I like walking around a city on my own and seeing all the little places where people live and work and go shopping. I don't want to see the big historical places very much, because they're full of tourists and you don't see the real city with the real people in those places – even if you have a tour guide. I like the cities in Mexico and Hungary.

D James

What I like to do on holiday is ... nothing! I like sitting in the sun looking at the view. It doesn't matter if I'm at the seaside or in a city or in the mountains. I like to sit and think and read a book, but nothing too difficult because I don't want to get tired! I like Egypt and Spain because they're very hot countries.

E Audrey

My holidays are full of action – swimming, walking, climbing. I love them all! I don't get tired, and I think it's really exciting to do something you can't do in your life at home. Sometimes we go into the mountains and walk for days and we don't see anyone else the whole time! I like Oman and Kenya, and one year we went to Norway and lived in the snow for a week. It was cold but it was the best holiday I ever had!

Petra's blog

Hi! I'm Petra. Welcome to my blog. Here I write about what I do, how I feel and anything funny or strange that happens to me. I hope you have fun reading it!

Farm life!

Last weekend my family and I visited a farm. We had a great time! We saw lots of baby animals – chicks, lambs, calves. It was fantastic! I rode on a pony – his name was Tony and he was very sweet and cute. I loved him. I also helped the farmer feed the chickens and my sister collected the eggs, and the milk from the cows – that was very funny to see!

Difficult week!

We're having exams at school and I'm studying and studying and studying! Life is very hard! Why do we have tests? I hate them – really I do! I'm getting bored and tired with it and I want to go shopping! There's a new shopping centre near my house and all my friends are there, but I'm at home studying! Do you have to study for school tests? Write and tell me your views and opinions.

School newspaper

Our school newspaper wants some articles on pupils' opinions about things and problems you have at school or at home. I'm the editor of the newspaper, so please send me your emails with your views. And don't forget to check out our website for reviews of the school play and the calendar section for school sport and matches!

Bye for now!

That's all for now! I'm going to have a break and visit the shopping centre. I want to find a florist's to buy some flowers for my great-grandmother. It's her birthday tomorrow – she's 97 years old!

See you next week!

More strange facts about animals

If you think people are funny or do funny and strange things, think again! Read about what we found when we put the phrase 'strange animals' into Google™.

Can you walk underwater? It's difficult, isn't it? Well, there's an animal that can do that. Armadillos can walk underwater, but they can't swim! And while we're talking about armadillos – how many hours do they sleep a day? You'll never guess! They sleep about 18.5 hours a day!

Now, you know that sharks have got lots of teeth, but how many is that? It depends on the kind of shark, of course, but they can have up to 3,000 teeth! Lots of teeth fall out, but sharks grow new teeth all the time. Imagine a shark at the dentist! Big problem!

Another strange thing! People sleep with their eyes closed, right? Well, here's an animal that doesn't do that. Dolphins don't close their eyes when they go to sleep! Strange but true!

Here's another strange fact. Do you know which animals never jump? Elephants! They can't jump, but they can run quite fast when they want.

And finally, which animal can't see colours? Can you guess? No? Cows! They only see things in black and white, but they don't think that life is boring!

Working at the airport

A Frank works at the airport, but not in the air – on the ground. He collects the bags and puts them on the planes when they're ready to leave. When a plane lands, he takes all the bags off and drives them to the place where the passengers can collect them. 'It's a tiring job, but I like driving my truck,' he says. 'Sometimes the weather is really bad, but I feel like a part of a big machine.'

B Roger has a very important job. He sits at the front of the plane and controls everything. He always wanted to fly and now he's doing his dream job. 'I love flying,' says Roger. 'All the passengers rely on me, because sometimes it can be dangerous – for example, there could be an emergency during take-off or landing.'

C Arthur is at the airport a lot. Sometimes you can see him waiting for his bags or waiting to get on a plane or showing his passport as he goes through security. 'It feels like I'm always catching a plane, going through security checks or collecting my baggage,' he says. 'I have to travel all over the world for my job and so I catch a lot of planes.'

D Suzie is Roger's wife and she sometimes works on the plane that he flies. She wears nice clothes and looks after the passengers on the flight. She serves them drinks and food and smiles all the time. She says it's a tiring job, but she likes helping people and she likes working with Roger. They are both away from home a lot, but they are together when they work on the same flight.

E Bruce's job is very important, because he keeps everyone safe. He works at the airport, but he doesn't fly and he doesn't work at the information desk. He checks all the passengers, and he helps them through the scanner at security. He is there in any emergency to help everyone.

Family problems

Sometimes I argue with my parents because they don't let me do what I want. We disagree a lot, and it's not very nice in my house when they refuse to give me permission. They think I'm just a child, but I'm growing up really fast. They don't allow me to go out on a school night, for example. But I'm fifteen and I want to grow up! Why don't they let me? When I was younger I couldn't look after myself, but now I'm old enough.

They shout and sometimes I cry, but they still don't let me do what I want. It's not easy to get on with them when they don't trust me. They say they worry about me all the time, but I don't think that's reasonable. It's not fair. And then they have all these rules, and I have to do what the rules say or I get into more trouble. I must feed the dog and do the washing up, and I should always do my homework before I watch TV. But my relationship with my parents isn't bad, I suppose. They let me go out at the weekends. At the weekend I can do whatever I want!

The Fox and the Grapes

One day, a fox is walking through some fields. It's hot because it's summer and the fox is hungry and thirsty. He wants to find something to eat and drink, but there's nothing there. Suddenly, he sees some grapes (a kind of fruit) and they look tasty and juicy. So he thinks, 'Mmm ... those grapes are just what I need because I want to eat and drink.' So he jumps and jumps, but he can't get them because they are too high. He tries again and again, but he can't touch the grapes. Eventually, the fox gives up and leaves. As he leaves, he says, 'It's OK. I don't want those grapes. I'm certain they weren't nice after all!'

The Boy and the Wolf

One day, a boy who is looking after some sheep in a field near the village is bored. So he decides to do something to pass the time. He starts calling 'Help! Help! A wolf is here. He wants to eat my sheep!' The people of the village run to help the boy and they discover that there is no wolf. The boy told them a lie! They go back to the village very angry with the boy.

The next day the same thing happens. The boy is bored and he starts shouting for help again. Again the villagers come to help him and again they discover that the boy is telling them lies. The same thing happens a third and a fourth time, and now the villagers are very angry and upset with the boy!

Then, one day a wolf really comes to eat the boy's sheep! The boy cries and shouts for help again, but this time nobody comes to help him because they think he's not telling the truth!

A Chuck

I like big animals, I don't like cats or goldfish or birds. When we go to the zoo, I like looking at the elephants. They're the biggest and slowest animals in the zoo. I'm not scared of big animals, but I'm scared of really little ones – like mice! Just like Walt Disney!

B Vince

I have a big garden at home and in the summer there's lots of sunshine and flowers and the butterflies come out. We've got six new puppies as well, and we all play in the garden together. When they get older, they'll be bigger and stronger, but now they're weaker than me and I can run faster than them!

C Polly

My favourite animal is the donkey. They're the slowest and friendliest animal, and the food they like best is ... chocolate. Last year, I asked my dad if he could buy a donkey, but he said I can't have one because we haven't got anywhere to keep him.

D Angela

Some people think I have a strange pet, but I don't think he's strange. My pet is a python. He's called Muscles, and he's the biggest snake you've ever seen. He eats mice and lives in a special box my dad bought. We knock on the glass to wake him up when it's time to feed him. He's the most interesting pet you can imagine.

E Nick

The zoo is such a boring place ! It was more tiring than I thought it was going to be. My dad was upset because it was more expensive than he thought, and my sister said it wasn't as enjoyable as she expected. Playing computer games is better than looking at animals.

My band

I'm in a band with my friends Ron, Paul and Bingo. We think we're the next big thing. That's why we called our band The Next Big Thing! We're going to be famous – and in the near future, too! We practise all the time, and when we finish school, we aren't going to go to university. We want to spend a lot of time playing music together. We have big plans, and there won't be time for university!

We have a CD and we wrote all the songs ourselves. We're going to sell the CD at our concerts. We're playing tomorrow in our town, and after that there's going to be a tour. We're travelling in our bus, but we'll visit a lot of places. We're going to show everyone what we can do. We're getting ready tonight. It's going to be great!

When we're famous, we'll play big concerts. On this tour, we're playing in small places, but you can be sure we won't forget the little places. So come to our concert tomorrow, and one day, you'll say 'I knew them before they were famous!'

I want that job: Actress

This week's 'I want that job' looks at the life of a young actress. We met 19-year-old Emma Graph, who told us what it's like to work on a movie as a young actress.

1 _____

Yes. It's great! I'm not a big star, like Catherine Zeta-Jones or Kirsten Dunst, but this is my dream and maybe I'll be a big star too one day! My role in this film isn't very big, but I like it and I think it's great fun! It's a small role – only six or seven scenes in the film, but I think it's quite important.

2 _____

I play a waitress in a restaurant. People go there to eat and I serve them food and talk to them. One day I hear some people talking and I tell the police what I heard.

3 _____

Well, all the actors have to come here early to put on our costumes and make-up. That's great! I love make-up because when we finish, we don't look like ourselves anymore! I look at myself in the mirror and I see a totally different person! It's amazing!

4 _____

Oh, tomorrow we are shooting a difficult scene. I'm coming here at half past five in the morning to put on my make-up and costume. It takes a long time, you know! Then, we're practising the scene two or three times to prepare for the shoot. I'm not speaking in this scene, but I'm serving customers and listening to what they say. The director is meeting us at half past twelve. He'll explain to us where to go and where the cameras will be.

5 _____

No, not really! It's the beginning of my career, so I don't get a lot of money, but I'm learning a lot of things and I'm enjoying myself a lot!

2 Was your life easy at the start of your career?

3 Who's your favourite director?

4 When are you starting your next movie?

A I like many directors, but my favourite is Peter Jackson. I'm going to act in his next movie! I'm really excited about it!

B Well, don't give up! It's never easy at the beginning and it's very hard work. You must stay away from your friends and family for a long time sometimes, but it's a great job. Oh, and always listen to what the director tells you!

C In 1995. My first roles were very small, but I learned a lot about films. Then, I was lucky and I got a big part in a very successful action movie.

D Next month. We're moving to New Zealand for that. I don't know the country, but I'm certain that it's fantastic! I can't wait!

E No, it was very difficult. I had to do different jobs, too. I was a waiter in a café for a long time and I also worked in a supermarket. They weren't very well paid jobs.

My charity work

Hi, I'm Paul and I do a lot for charity. I like helping people, so I try to do many things. Listen to some of the things I've done. I've parachuted out of an aeroplane. I've run a marathon. I've sold things at a stall in a market. I've sold tickets to a bouncy castle at a fair and I've been on a telethon loads of times. I was tired after the marathon and I was really scared in the aeroplane, but I'm happy I did those things!

Next week, I'm cycling from London to Paris to raise money for a new charity which helps people who can't see very well. The money I raise will help someone to get better, I hope. I haven't cycled very much in my life, so it's going to be very interesting. It's a long journey and I'll be really tired, but I think it will be fun too.

There are lots of other things you can do to help people through charity. I've raised money for schools. I've given money to poor people in Africa. I've helped to build a school in South America. I enjoyed all of the things I've done. I love charity events, and I love meeting people. Don't waste your time watching TV or playing on your computer, come and help!

Look to the Future!

This week Webchat asked its readers for their predictions about the future. This is what fourteen-year-old Angelina told us.

1 _____

Oh, I don't think it'll be very different. In a month school will be over for the summer and I'll go to my grandparents' village to spend the summer there. I'm sure it will be great!

2 _____

Well, I think it'll be almost the same. I'll be a year older and school will be a bit more difficult, but I don't think anything else will change in a year. I play tennis and if I'm good enough, I'll play some tennis competitions. I hope I'll win!

3 _____

Hmm ... Well, a lot of things will be different. If I'm a good student, I'll be at university. I want to study to be a doctor. I know that's a difficult thing to study so I'll have to work extremely hard to be successful!

4 _____

Really, I don't know, but I know it will be very different. I'll be twenty-four years old in a decade. I hope I'll have a job then and maybe I'll be married. Perhaps I'll still live at home with my parents. I really have no idea!

5 _____

I think life will be very different in a century. Technology moves very fast – look how different life is now from a hundred years ago! They didn't have computers and mobile phones and now we can't even think about living without those things. If technology continues to improve, perhaps we'll have robots to help us. A Martina, 13 Switzerland

Many things have changed in the recent past. Only thirty years ago people didn't have mobile phones and laptops weren't very usual. Today, things have changed a lot and technology is improving very fast. I think that in the future, people will have flying cars and robots and we won't have to go to work or the supermarket. We'll work from home and do our shopping on the internet. I'm certain that in a century, life will be very different. Perhaps there won't be so many illnesses and people will live a very long time!

B Kylie, 14, USA

I think that life will be extremely different in a millennium. Perhaps people won't look like us. They'll be taller and thinner and they won't go out of their houses at all! They'll stay in all the time and will chat online and never meet other people. This has already started happening in countries like Japan. Some children never leave their rooms, not even to go to school! I think that's very sad. Also, I'm afraid there won't be any animals left, because the planet is getting dirtier and dirtier. I'm worried that the future won't be a nice place to live in.

C Dennis, 12, Australia

I'm very excited about the future! Technology is improving very fast and things that were impossible only a decade ago are now easy to do! Think about computers and laptops and mobile phones and the internet. In my opinion, we'll see great things in the near future. Already, films have changed with 3D and special effects and our life has become much easier with mobile phones and small laptops which we can take with us everywhere! Perhaps in the near future, they'll become so small that we can have them on us or wear them like clothes! I can't wait for the future to arrive!
